

FALKIRK ARCHIVES

Records of Businesses

Chambers of Commerce Finding Aid

Central Scotland Chamber of Commerce

Central Scotland Chamber of Commerce serves the area administered by the three local government unitary authorities of Clackmannan, Falkirk and Stirling (often referred to as Forth Valley). The Mission Statement of the company mentions three main objectives: 'To provide a range of quality services in response to the needs of member firms and the wider business community. To be the principal voice and representative body for the business community in Central Scotland. To serve member's interests by being actively engaged in local, regional, national and international business and community affairs.' Registered Office in Polmont, Falkirk. Central Scotland Chamber of Commerce was incorporated in 1954 with the registration number SC030138.

The organisation was previously known as Forth Valley Chamber of Commerce.

Reference No	Date	Description
A481.03	1984-1985	Buyer's Guide and List of Members

Forth Valley Chamber of Commerce

Reference No	Date	Description
A010.154	1958	Photocopies of correspondence between John A. Balfour, Gillespie & Nicol, Grangemouth, Ltd and Robert Barr, A.G.Barr & Co Ltd, concerning the "Charlotte Dundas"

Forth Valley Junior Chamber of Commerce

Reference No	Date	Description
A755.001	1972	Road safety week album Contains news cuttings, circulars and papers, photographs and memorabilia relating to organisation of Road Safety Week and vintage car rally