

FALKIRK ARCHIVES

Records of Churches

Grangemouth Zetland Parish Church finding aid

Zetland Parish Church was formed on 14 March 1991 by the union of Grange Parish Church and Grangemouth Old Parish Church. The united congregation used the building in Ronaldshay Crescent, formerly used by Grangemouth Old Parish Church.

The Church of Scotland kirk session for Grangemouth Zetland sat in the presbytery of Falkirk.

(Note: This congregation should not be confused with Zetland Free Church which was the original name of Charing Cross Church)

Reference Code	Date	Brief Description
CH2/1591/4/1	1991-2002	Lists of elders and members, with addresses, along with record of elders' districts and congregational statistical returns. Includes list of members used for union of Grangemouth Old and Grangemouth Grange in 1991