Denny & Dunipace Dean of Guild Court

The origins of the Dean of Guild Court were in the medieval Royal Burghs. Their powers to hear offences against neighbourliness gradually evolved into modern planning and building control regulations. From 1862 Town Councils were permitted to set up Dean of Guild Courts and from 1892 all town councils were required to set up Dean of Guild Courts. The Dean of Guild Courts had powers to impose conditions relating to public health under the 1862 Police Act.

Denny & Dunipace Gas Commissioners

In 1886 Denny & Dunipace Police Commissioners adopted the Burgh's Gas Supply (Scotland) Act 1876 and Denny Gas Consumer Company was transferred from private ownership to the Burgh of Denny & Dunipace Commissioners of Police. The Gas Commissioners were then established with a Gas Committee reporting to the new Gas Commissioners. By 1927 this had become the Gas Committee of Denny & Dunipace Town Council with a Gas Department running the gas works.

Predecessors: Denny Joint Stock Gas Company was formed around 1845. By 1861 it was defunct and a new company, Denny Gas Consumers' Company Ltd was formed and it erected Denny Gas Works in 1861.

Denny Parochial Board & Denny Parish Council

Parochial Boards were set up under the Poor Law Act of 1845 to administer poor relief in each parish. From 1867-1890 the Parochial Boards were given additional responsibilities for public health: within burghs these were taken over by burgh commissioners under the various local and general Police Acts, but outwith burghs the Parochial Boards were the designated local authority. In 1894 Parochial Boards were replaced by elected Parish Councils, but the successor bodies frequently continued to use the same minute books and other records as their predecessors. The Parish Councils were abolished in 1930. Very few records survive for the Parochial Boards and Parish Councils in the Falkirk area, despite the efforts of various archivists to trace any remaining records. In most cases only the minutes survive and it should be noted that there are very few records of applications for poor relief.
